Clever conversion of warehouse

Abri Projects has recently transformed existing warehouses to accommodate Metso Mineral's new Aussie address - being one of 50 countries where the company is based.

The fitout designed by Sparc Architecture involved cleverly converting existing warehouses to accommodate the boardrooms, meeting rooms, laboratory, offices, communal areas, workshops, storage and amenities this company required. There were 12 weeks in execution on site and the transformation achieved a great result by meeting the company's requirements while maximising their fitout dollars. Conversion of warehouse was definitely the right solution for this client.

Industrial spaces are being converted for new uses, such as office spaces, around the world. To see former industrial spaces converted into stunning factory homes, visit:

A move with a view

It was only fitting that attention to detail was paramount for the UBS fitout completed by Abri Projects in one of Queensland's most iconic corporate addresses - Waterfront Place.

Smart design by Harry Poulos Architects allowed for each component of the build to take optimum advantage of the incredible, uninterrupted views of the Brisbane River and the Story Bridge.

Selections such as the marble floors, stone finishes and high-end architectural joinery helped to create the impressive work environment. Abri Projects was very pleased to be able to deliver such a successful project for the client here.

It is anticipated that this new view will achieve even more productive staff to provide financial services globally.

Larger premises for an ever growing company

Abri Projects has just completed the new fitout for Blue Broking business insurance company in Mary Street as they had outgrown their previous premises.

A larger location became necessary as new staff were recruited to meet the increasing demand on the services the company offers. This fitout included a most welcoming foyer from the lift access, a very impressive board room and spacious work spaces with the use of colour to enhance the working environment.

The company is planning for future growth so this new accommodation allows for this. Abri Projects was able to deliver this project within the timeline and on budget.

Fine dining Chinese on Eagle

You will soon be able to enjoy a truly sumptuous feast of authentic Chinese cuisine at The Imperial in Riverside Centre. Abri Projects is currently constructing this unique yet traditional restaurant build.

For this fine dining restaurant fitout, we will create an elegant environment with an intimate feel over a very spacious area.

This fitout has everything you'd expect from a sophisticated dining project - from the custom made gold chandeliers to the fully imported Ege carpet featuring The Imperial's own design. The five fish tanks ensure the freshest of seafood taste as well as good Feng Shui.

Particularly perfect whether you're meeting for business or pleasure.

It will be too easy for Abri Projects staff to drop into the restaurant next door to our office to pick up some Crispy Skin Duck for dinner.

Some recent testimonials

" This was a difficult project - especially at the start! Abri was instrumental in getting a good solution and completing it well.
